

Culture & Communication Speaker Series Presents: "Facebook and the Self: A Status Update"

facebook

Home Profile Friends Inbox

Settings Logout

Culture and Communication Graduate Colloquium Speaker Series

Type: Education - Lecture
Network: Global
Date: Friday, October 30, 2009
Time: 4:00pm - 6:00pm
Location: PSA 114 (Library) at 33rd Street & Powelton Avenue

Description

Please join us for the first Colloquium of the 2009-2010 Academic Year. All faculty members and graduate students are invited to attend. Dr. Pooley will be presenting on "Facebook and the Self: A Status Update." This talk discusses Facebook's potent and contradictory cocktail of self-promotion and expressive distinction, stirred by the self-improvement industries, the therapeutic professions, and especially advertising – the Facebook installments of a long-running show.

Dr. Pooley is Assistant Professor of Communication of Media and Communication at Muhlenberg College. His research centers on the history of communication studies, as the field's emergence has intersected with the twentieth century rise of the other social sciences.

Friday, October 30, 2009 from 4:00-6:00 P.M. in PSA 114.

Invite People to Come

Edit Guest List

Cancel this Event

Edit Event

Message Guests

Print Guest List

Your RSVP

- Attending
- Maybe Attending
- Not Attending