JULY 2009

Andrew Gould

Andrew stepped up when he received the call to be the next President of the USGA. Although he specifically did not run for President because he did not originally want to do the job, Andrew rose to the occasion when it mattered most and accepted the role with open arms this Summer.

With the departure of the past-President, Andrew has since assumed the position and has hit the ground running in this role. During Summer 2009, he has actively reached out to multiple departments across campus to prepare and collaborate on projects for the upcoming year.

Student Life and the Office of
