JULY 2009

PRAGATHI - GRADUATE INDIAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The Pragathi website has been revamped completely to encourage more active participation from its members and non-members. Pragathi provided a webcasting session for all incoming graduate students from India, which helped settle any uncertainties about their travel to and first few days in Philadelphia. Furthermore, the organization arranged to pick-up and temporarily house all new Indian students coming to Drexel in Fall 2009.

Pragathi organized several successful events for their members this summer, including: a charity volleyball tournament, an educational lecture by Dr. Chetan Gadgil – a scientist with National Chemical Laboratory, a Friendship Potluck Day, an overnight camping trip, a celebration for Indian Independence Day in partnership with DISHA, and a festival celebration for Ganesh Chaturdhi.
