Follow-up Instructions

- Contact the institution(s) from which you received financial aid during the current academic year and advise the financial aid administrator to cancel any future, unpaid financial aid disbursements.
- Obtain documentation from your school or lending agency reflecting the exact dollar amounts of federal or state funds paid to you while you were enrolled and the exact dollar amounts of future, unpaid funds that have been canceled on your behalf. Appropriate documentation includes:
  - A financial aid notice from your school
  - A cancellation notice from your lender
  - A screen shot reflecting financial aid disbursements paid and canceled on your behalf from your prior institution
- Please be advised that until the required documentation is received and processed, your federal and state financial aid eligibility cannot be determined. Any awards currently offered to you are considered estimates and are subject to change contingent on your remaining award eligibility as mandated by federal and state agency guidelines.

I certify that the information I am providing is accurate. I understand that if I received aid at my previous institution I am only eligible for the remainder of my annual eligibility set forth by the federal government's regulations and standards.
