Term: Year:

Instructor:

Office Hours:

Prerequisite: Completion of Italian 103 or placement into Italian 201.

Course description and goals:

Italian 201 meets two or three hours per week with a weekly two-hour weekly lab requirement. The focus of this course, and all courses in the program, is the acquisition of oral skills. Only Italian will be spoken during class discussions. Students who come prepared to class every day and who actively participate can expect to continue to improve their spoken Italian while reviewing grammatical structures that were introduced during the first year of study. Each week you will read, analyze and prepare a selected lettura that you will discuss with your instructor in class. Since oral proficiency is the emphasis of this course, your listening, reading and speaking skills will be tested during each class session.

You will be required to work on the first seven chapters of the textbook, reviewing the topics orally and participating in expansion class-activities. In order to continue working on written and analytical skills, students will be asked to maintain a journal and/or turn in short written, ungraded, assignments. By the end of the term students should be able to write a 1 page double spaced composition on topics that they have studied in class. The curriculum demands tremendous commitment on the part of the student. In order to successfully complete the course students should expect to not only come to every class meeting, use online materials lab 2 hours per week, but to study at least 8 hours a week.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

1) Attendance policy:

Attendance is mandatory. Students are allowed to miss no more than four classes during the term. Students who exceed this number of absences will not be scheduled for a final oral exam and consequently will fail the course.

2) Drop/Withdraw policy:

Drexel University allows students to drop a course through the end of the first week of the term. This means that you will not be allowed to drop a course, after the first week of the term.

The number of times you have already been absent, the status of your class participation, the result of your midterm testing, and your evaluations are your best guide to decide whether you should drop the course.

3) Language lab:

Italian 201 students are required to go to work on their listening and reading skills with the material provided on their Blackboard site for Italian 201. Students need to spend 10 hours per term on the activities assigned in cyberspace. Blackboard can be accessed through learning.drexel.edu or on DrexelOne by clicking on "My Courses". Students can go to the Modern Languages Office to check out Italian movies.

In addition to building upon your foundation of the German language, this course will provide you with tools to improve your understanding of intercultural communication with a focus on the German culture. In this course, you will improve upon your openness, knowledge, and adaptability in intercultural situations and will therefore obtain the intermediate level of intercultural communication skills that you are expected to have in German 201.

Level 2 - Intermediate Intercultural Communication Skills
Overview Of Competence	As a result of gaining more experience, I now perceive intercultural encounters with a more knowledgeable and open point-of-view. I have a mental checklist of the sorts of situations I am likely to deal with during these encounters, and I have begun to develop my skills in order to cope with them. I am more prepared for the need to respond and adapt to unfamiliar situations and I now see patterns in the various experiences I have had, and I am able to draw conclusions from those patterns without seeking advice. I prefer to respond in a neutral way when differences arise, rather than approving or disapproving.
Openness	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) I now see the uncertainties that can arise from intercultural encounters as an interesting challenge, as long as the issues at hand are not personal to me. 2) I react neutrally to cultural differences rather than categorizing them immediately as “good” or “bad”.
Knowledge	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) I go out of my way to find out about the cultures that I will be working with, paying attention to facts as well as values, customs, and practices that are common in those cultures. 2) When I encounter new values, customs, or practices, I incorporate that gained knowledge into an overall system of principles. 3) I have developed a mental checklist of how others may perceive, feel, and respond differently to a range of my own behaviors. This allows me to put others at ease and avoid upsetting them or causing discomfort.
Adaptability	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) The way that I act is influenced by principles that I have established from my knowledge of other cultures, and I often plan for intercultural encounters including ambiguous situations. 2) I adapt my behavior in new situations, taking into account the lessons I have learned from previous intercultural situations. I sometimes will adopt the behaviors of others, rather than waiting for them to adopt mine. 3) I seek to achieve successful communication by making my intentions clear and by adapting to the communication styles of others. When there is a problem with communication, I often find ways to solve it. For example, I will reinforce my statements with hand gestures, re-explaining, or simplifying. 4) I know a number of useful strategies for dealing with common intercultural communication problems.
