Drexel University Self Instructional Language Program (SILP) Modern Languages Homepage Chinese Homepage Chinese 103

Prerequisite: Chinese 102 or placement into Chinese 103.

Description:

Chinese 103 meets three hours per week with a weekly one-hour lab requirement. The focus of this course, and all courses in the SILP program, is the acquisition of oral skills. During class time you should expect your teacher to speak entirely in Chinese and to focus on drilling you on core conversations and phrases that you have learned at home.

The SILP curriculum demands tremendous commitment on the part of the student. In order to successfully complete the course students should expect to not only come to every class meeting, do their one-hour language lab per week, but to study at least 10 hours a week.

Chinese Primer -package of three books (0-691-0369-0) Princeton University Press. Chinese Primer Character Workbook - Simplified Character version in ML Office

All instructors in the SILP program evaluate students on a weekly basis. Students may consult these evaluations by coming to the Modern Languages office and asking to see the Chinese Language binder. As there are no formal tests or quizzes in the SILP program, weekly evaluations have been established in order to provide written feedback to students.

Remember you cannot drop this course after the sixth week of ther term and so should take particular care to read your weekly evaluations, stay up to date on your lab hours and take the time to rectify any weaknesses indicated on your weekly evaluations.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

1) Attendance policy:

Attendance is mandatory. Students are allowed to miss no more than four classes during the term. Students who exceed the maximum number of allowable absences will not be scheduled for a final oral exam and consequently will fail the course.

2) Drop policy:

Drexel University allows students to drop a course through the end of the sixth week of the term. This means that you will not be allowed to drop a course, even if you are failing, after the sixth week of the term. The number of times you have been absent, the status of your lab hours and, the result of your midterm testing and, your weekly evaluations are your best guide to decide whether you should drop the course.

3) Cyberspace lab:

Chinese 103 students are required to go to work on their listening and reading skills with the material providedon their WebCT site for CHIN 103. Students need to spend 10 hours per term on the activities assigned in cyberspace. WebCT can be accessed through BbVista at Drexel or on DrexelOne by clicking on "My Courses".

Your instructor will check cyber space hours during the third, fifth and eighth week of the term. All students must complete their WebCT requirement in order to be eligible for the final exams. WebCT hours are to be completed by 5 pm on the Friday before final exams.

4) Final exam and grade:

Your entire grade will be determined by your final oral exam. This exam is given on either Friday, Saturday or Sunday before finals week (before the rest of the University begins final exams) by the University's outside examiner. If a student fails to appear at the appointed time, he risks not being able to take a final oral exam.

GRADING: A + : 98-100, A: 93-97, A - : 90-92; B + : 87-89, B: 83-86, B - : 80-82; C + : 77-79, C: 73-76, C - : 70-72; D + : 67-69, D: 63-66, D - : 60-

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY: See the Drexel Student Handbook for Academic Dishonesty

Except under highly unusual circumstances students who exceed the maximum number of allowable absences and/or who fail to complete their lab hours are not permitted to take the final oral. Remember, the final oral exam constitutes the entire grade for the course.

OTHER RESOURCES

Coaching and The Conversation Network:

All Drexel Chinese language students are eligible for one free hour of coaching per week. You may sign up for coaching through DCLI in 050 Creese or on their website http://www.dlc.drexel.edu/. Coaching is an excellent opportunity for ALL students, both those doing well and those in need of assistance, to improve their language skills.

Through the English Language Center, located on the first floor of the Language and Communication Center, Chinese language students may sign up for a conversation partner. The Conversation Network is designed to give Drexel students an opportunity to meet and converse with a foreign student who has come to Drexel to learn English. This program is not designed to replace daily preparation for class, but rather can provide a forum for informal

Students may sign up for the Conversation Network by stop Conversation.Network@drexel.edu, or by phoning them at (215) 895-2022. stopping by the English Language Center, or sending an e-mail to:

Drexel University encourages all students to study and/or work abroad as part of their academic program. Available options include:

- 1. Intensive Language Study Abroad: Various programs are available, primarily in the summer. Prior completion of Level 103 is required for recommendation by the Modern Languages Program. Information is available at the Modern Languages program office (210 LCC), in the IAS Office (MacAlister 2024), and in the Office of International Programs (Randell 230).
- 2. Co-op and Internships Abroad: Drexel Abroad programs in languages and the liberal arts are administered by the director of International Area Studies and include study-internship programs in Europe and intensive language programs in China, Japan and Russia. They require junior status, with a 3.0 average (3.5 for pre-juniors), completion of level 203 of the target language (except in London), and at least two upper-division courses in history, politics and sociology. Internships in Belgium are with the European Parliament, and in other countries with multinational corporations or with organizations and agencies in a variety of disciplines.
- 3. International Programs: The Office of International Programs offers a number of discipline-specific programs abroad (most of which do not require substantive language skills), including the opportunity for Drexel students in a variety of majors to study/co-op in London. More information is available by emailing the Study Abroad office at: studyabroad@drexel.edu or by contacting Daniela Ascarelli, Study Abroad Coordinator at (215) 895-1704.
