

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

GREETINGS:

It is truly an honor to welcome everyone gathered for the 68th annual Delaware Valley Science Fairs (DVSF).

Science and engineering have been cornerstones of the commonwealth's economy for generations. Educating and encouraging youth to continue this legacy is fundamental to prosperity and progress, and I commend DVSF and its partners for endeavoring to provide inspiration and opportunity for participation in STEM fields. During this competition, students will demonstrate not only great innovation in their projects, but tremendous ambition and dedication beyond the classroom. I applaud the students here today for their outstanding achievements thus far, and I am certain the finalists will continue to have a positive impact across the commonwealth and beyond for many years to come.

As Governor, and on behalf of all citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I am delighted to offer my best wishes for continued success.

Tom Wolf
TOM WOLF
Governor
March 29-30, 2016