ABOUT THE DREXEL UNIVERSITY STUDENT AMBASSADOR PROGRAM

Building the Community

The Drexel University Student Ambassador program is designed to train student leaders in the skills necessary to represent the University on and off campus and grow the Drexel community. These ambassadors are the face of the University, leading tours, mingling with prospective students and families, and enthusiastically sharing their own Drexel experiences to highlight the opportunities and benefits of a Drexel education.

Building Drexel's Future

- Be a campus tour guide and feature the perks of Philadelphia
- Share your Drexel story with students and families
- Answer questions about academics and student life
- Highlight any experiences you have with co-op, Study Abroad, the Honors College, and undergraduate research
- Show your residence hall room and talk about life on campus

Student Ambassador Requirements

- Attend the Introductory New Ambassador Training
- Complete the tour training process
- Attend monthly Ambassador Meetings (unless in class)
- Conduct Campus Tours through the Daily Visit program
- Participate in weekend Admissions events
- If living on campus, show your residence hall room

Building Your Future

- Represent Drexel as a student leader
- Enhance your résumé
- Gain experience in public speaking
- Build lasting friendships with your fellow ambassadors
- Develop valuable leadership skills while serving as a mentor to fellow ambassadors
- Enjoy special Student Ambassador social events
