The daring vision of its award-winning founders and artistic directors, Christine Cox and Matthew Neenan, BalletX challenges the boundaries of classical ballet by encouraging formal experimentation while preserving rigorous technique. The Company is committed to producing new works of the highest quality and integrity that bring the combined visions of choreographers and dancers to life and cultivate in audiences a collective appetite for bold new dance.

Mozart's final opera, The Magic Flute, follows the adventures of Prince Tamino (Antonio Lozano) as he undergoes feats of heroism to rescue his love, Pamina (Elizabeth Zharoff), from the forces of evil. A charming production from Tony Award-nominated Diane Paulus that captures the sense of play and wonder in Mozart's music, as well as the whimsy and wisdom experienced in the opera's journey for self-knowledge, truth and love

MAY EVENTS

OTHELLO

Thursday, May 2nd @ 7:00PM

Philadelphia Shakespeare Theater: 2111 Sansom Street, Philadelphia, PA

Othello examines the microcosm of marriage, and in particular, trust. It is here in our life long partnerships that we finally understand ourselves. What we value. What we are about as opposed to what we say we are about. It is the place where our most personal selves are illuminated, where all of our strengths and weaknesses, our many contradictions are borne out. By exploring the issues closest to our hearts: trust, betrayal, fidelity, deception, and love, Shakespeare is able to show us a reflection of our larger world; our family, community, the entire society and global forces. It is the issue of trust that is front and centre in this play. Othello says, “Men should be what they seem.” But in the play, men are not what they seem. Iago’s manipulation of Othello is the most bone-chilling deception in all of literature. Why does Iago decide to utterly destroy the fabric of Othello’s being and others? And why doesn’t anyone ask the most simple of questions that could avert this tragedy?

SUPER POPS BROADWAY: PETER NERO AND THE PHILLY POPS

Friday, May 10th @ 8:00PM

Kimmel Center: 240 South Broad Street, Philadelphia, PA

Up on the stage, it's a bird, it's a plane, it's Super POPS! Playing the tunes you want in the style you love – this time with a Broadway twist. Peter and the Philly POPS orchestra take center stage with classic, timeless Broadway. This showcase of The POPS' musicians features their virtuosic skills - and, of course, Peter at the piano - as they play through the scores of The Great White Way.

DAY-TRIP to WASHINGTON, D.C.

Saturday, May 11th from 9:00AM-9:00PM

Spend the day walking the National Mall, touring some of the many free museums, shopping and eating in the U.S. Capitol!

DANCE THEATER OF HARLEM

Friday, May 17th @ 8:00 PM

Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts: 3680 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, PA

For many years this ground-breaking company's star shone brightly as it lit up major venues with some of the most beautiful and exceptionally-trained dancers around. After an eight-year hiatus, the contemporary, boundary pushing ballet company reinvents itself, with the blessing of founder Arthur Mitchell and now under the guidance of Virginia Johnson, who was the company's lead dancer for 20 years.
