Performance Goals

Performance goals are the “what” you are working to accomplish. They are tied to departmental and/or organizational strategic priorities. Below is an example of a performance goal:

Billing Management

- Implement an enhanced billing management process through web based technology by 9/30/08.
- Develop a master design document, and creating stakeholder buy-in and awareness.
- Ensure functionality of system and new form.
- Develop the communication and implementation plan for the new process by the end of September.
- Ready for delivery in mid-October.

Development Goals

Development goals focus on areas you want to develop in order to grow in your job or advance in your career. Below is an example of a development goal:

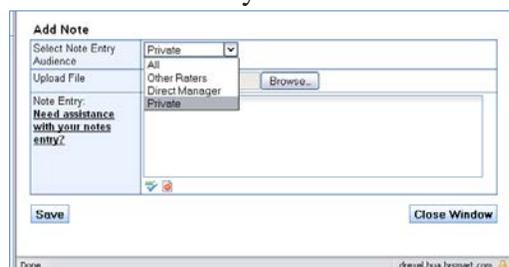

Public Speaking

To increase my effectiveness in giving presentations I will join Toastmasters by March 31 and attend at least 6 monthly meetings by the end of the year. I will ask Ted Thomas to provide feedback using the Toastmasters format on my presentations after each staff meeting during the year.

ENTER NOTES ABOUT YOUR EMPLOYEE’S PERFORMANCE

Throughout the year you should document your employee’s performance by using the notepad feature. You might want to set quarterly reminders for yourself to review your employee’s goals and competencies and take note on how your employee has been performing.

- 1) Select Manager Menu.
- 2) Select My Employee Evaluations.
- 3) Select  to view the evaluation.
- 4) Complete the following steps for each of the goals/competencies you want to write a note for:
 - a) Select  in the Actions column.

- 3) In the Actions column, select  per employee.

EMPLOYEE COMPLETES SELF ASSESSMENT; SUBMITS ASSESSMENT TO MANAGER

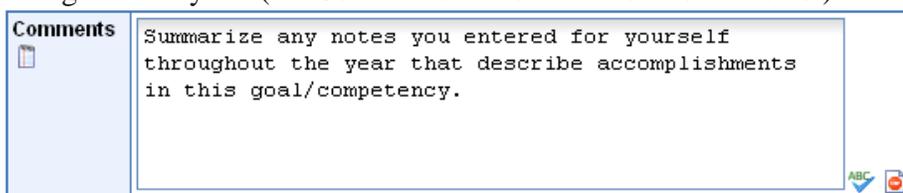

Your employee will go through all of his/her goals and competencies and review his/her and your notes from throughout the year. Once they have reviewed the notepad, he/she will select the Evaluate button under the Self Assessment column for each goal and competency, summarize his/her own notes in the Comments box, and then select a rating for that goal/competency.

Once he/she is finished writing comments and have selected a rating, he/she will select the Evaluate button. Your employee will evaluate him/herself on all goals and competencies. Once he/she is finished evaluating him/herself, he/she will go to the Overall Evaluation of Performance tab and select the Submit Assessment button. You will not have access to evaluate your employee until he/she selects the Submit Assessment button.

GIVE YOUR EMPLOYEE A COPY OF THE EVALUATION TO REVIEW

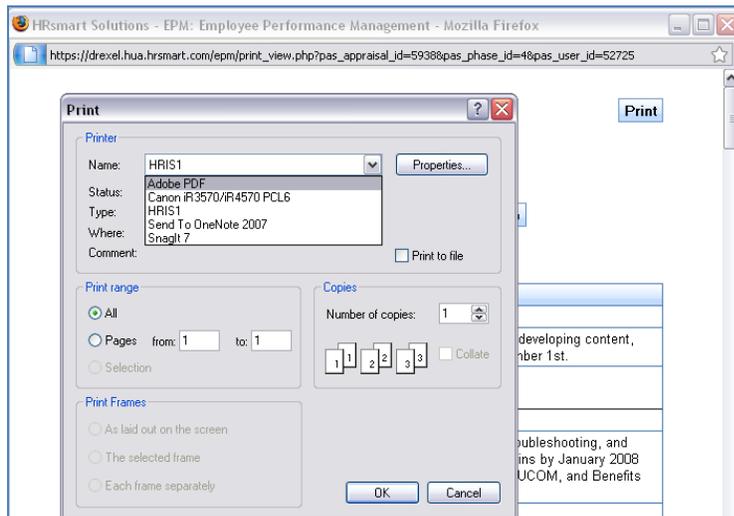

Before you meet with your employee, you should give them a copy of the evaluation to read thoroughly so they can take note of any questions they may have for you. Allowing your employee to review the evaluation prior to your conversation allows them to fully digest your comments and enter the conversation with a fully knowledge of what is going to be discussed so there aren't any surprises.

1. Select Manager Menu.
2. Select My Employee Evaluations.
3. Select to  to view the print preview of the evaluation.

Your department administrator should let you know once the evaluation has been approved and is ready to be moved to the Review phase for signatures.

EMPLOYEE AND MANAGER REVIEW AND SIGN THE EVALUATION

Once the evaluation is in the review stage, both the employee and manager should review the final evaluation and then sign the evaluation. If your employee refuses to sign the evaluation, explain that a signature only indicates that your employee has reviewed the performance evaluation with his/her manager. Inform your employee that he/she is free to write any comments he/she would like in the space provided.
