Campus Inclusion and Culture Resources

Bienvenidos

drexel.edu/diversity/groups/overview/Employees/CRG/Bienvenidos

Through membership in Bienvenidos, Latino, Latin American and other employees sharing common interests, will have the opportunity to connect, share experiences and expertise and promote cultural awareness and professional development. Bienvenidos will carry out its mission through various programs and events, contributing significantly to Drexel's diversity efforts.

Black Faculty and Professional Staff Association

drexel.edu/diversity/groups/overview/Employees/CRG/BFPSA

The Black Faculty and Professional Staff Association is committed to enhancing the experience of faculty, professional staff and students at Drexel by focusing on education, mentoring, community involvement and networking.

Bridge to the Doctorate

drexel.edu/provost/aard/resources-programs/bridge-doctorate

The Bridge to the Doctorate (BTD) Fellowship Program funded by the National Science Foundation is committed to engaging students from underrepresented populations (African American, Native American and Latino) in graduate study within science, technology, engineering and mathematics fields of study. The BTD Fellowship program encourages students' interest in graduate study by demystifying the graduate admissions process and removing the financial barriers associated with continued study. Moreover, the program broadens perspective among faculty and institutional stakeholders regarding the successful candidate for graduate study by evaluating prospective fellowship applicants on the basis of their record of achievements as well as their professional and research experiences, motivation for advanced study and connection to the field of study.

Department of Public Safety

Course Diversity and Multiculturalism Inventorydrexel.edu/diversity/academics/overview

The Diversity and Multiculturalism Inventory is designed to help students locate topics that might be of interest by listing a wide range of courses, which increase awareness of diversity, equity and social justice issues both domestically and globally. Drexel University strives to provide enriching educational opportunities that prepare students to thrive and flourish in a diverse world. To support that goal Drexel encourages students to learn about, appreciate and value a variety of cultures, life experiences and perspectives other than their own. Although Drexel does not require all students to complete courses that focus on diversity or multiculturalism, it strongly encourages students to include such courses in their experience at Drexel.

Equality and Diversitydrexel.edu/oed

James E. Marks Intercultural Center

oed@drexel.edu

215.895.1405

Equality and Diversity promotes, supports and sustains a living, learning and working environment of diversity, equality, fairness, inclusion and respect. Drexel aspires to foster a community grounded in idealistic tension, dialogue and respect for diversity and also a community that has learned to engage with respect and with humility, honoring our fundamental difference and our sameness.

International Students and Scholars Servicesdrexel.edu/iss

3210 Chestnut St.

Creese Student Center, Suite 210

215.895.2502

The Office of International Students and Scholars Services (ISSS) offers an array of programs and services to more than 4,200 international students, scholars and faculty. The ISSS staff works to promote meaningful interaction between U.S. citizens and nationals of other countries by organizing cultural enrichment opportunities for all members of the Drexel community. ISSS staff advise international students, scholars and faculty on immigration, cultural, financial, academic and personal concerns.

Office of Disability Resources

drexel.edu/disability

3201 Arch St.

Suite 210

215.895.1401

The Office of Disability Resources (ODR) provides equal opportunities and equal access to education, employment, programs and activities for individuals with disabilities at Drexel. In achieving this, ODR collaborates with and empowers individuals who have documented disabilities by working together proactively to determine reasonable and appropriate accommodative measures. In efforts to ensure compliance with current legislation and eliminate attitudinal barriers against people with disabilities, ODR also provides guidance and education to the campus community.

Spiritual and Religious Life

drexel.edu/studentaffairs/get\_involved/interfaith\_council

The Office of Spiritual and Religious Life believes that spiritual and/or religious exploration and expression is integral to the ongoing process of establishing identity, making meaning and clarifying purpose in our lives. To that end, Spiritual and Religious Life encourages all students at Drexel to take advantage of the multiple resources available to support their spiritual identity development.

Student Conduct and Community Standards

drexel.edu/scs

Creese Student Center, Suite 215

3210 Chestnut St.

215.895.6074

Drexel University expects that all students as well as student organizations will conduct themselves responsibly and in a manner that reflects favorably upon themselves and the University. When a student or organization does not act responsibly and violates the University policies, rules, regulations, or standards of conduct, formal disciplinary action may result. The Conduct process reflects the University's concern that students and organizations maintain high standards. The Conduct process attempts to foster personal learning and growth, while at the same time holding individuals and groups accountable for inappropriate behavior.
