PROGRAM AGENDA Saturday, November 21, 2015

TARGET AUDIENCE

This symposium is designed to provide gastroenterologists, primary care physicians, NPs, PAs, and nurses who are involved in the management of liver patients, with the most recent information currently available, especially covering in depth the 2015 Annual Meeting of the American Association for the Study of Liver Diseases: The Liver Meeting, held November 13-17, 2015, in San Francisco.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

After attending this program, the participant will be able to:

- Recognize chronic viral hepatitis (A,B, C and E) with the updated management from the recent national liver meetings.
- Discuss 2015 guidelines for the diagnosis and management of chronic hepatitis C virus infection.
- Explain new information on management of the most common complications of cirrhosis (ascites, encephalopathy, bleeding, liver cancer) from the 2015 meeting of the American Association for the Study of Liver Disease (AASLD).
- Manage and plan the treatment of liver failure with liver transplantation according to the most recent information presented at the national liver conference.
- Examine the updated diagnosis, evaluation and management of the most common autoimmune liver disorders (primary biliary cirrhosis, primary sclerosing cholangitis, autoimmune hepatitis) presented at the recent annual meeting of the AASLD.
